History Driver: Beyond Living Memory

Key Enquiry: What was Scarborough like during the Victorian period?

History Driver

What I need the children to learn	Possible learning experiences
Beyond Living Memory
Events beyond living memory that are significant nationally or globally [for example, the Great Fire of London, the first aeroplane flight or events commemorated through festivals or anniversaries
Can I learn about events that happened long ago, even before my recent ancestors were born? Can I understand some similarities and differences between ways of life at different times?	Learn about Grace Darling and her rescue mission and how this impacted lighthouse development. Know about what we use today instead of older artefacts household and school artefacts. (Ryedale Folk museum) Understand what lighthouses were used for and how they have
Do I know that children's lives today are different to those of children a long time ago?	changed (compare with 100 years ago).
Do I know why Grace Darling was significant and how her rescue impacted lighthouse development?	Study types of jobs children did in Victorian times and the difference between rich and poor families and boys and girls. Life in Victorian workplaces. Similarities and differences with our ways of life.
Can I understand how the government make decisions and the role of the Queen in this? Who is the Prime Minister and what is their role and the role of Parliament?	Recap of Queen Victoria being powerful (the Queen mentioned in Year 1 as being important and powerful) but introduce the idea that the government make decisions.
Skills Plot significant people, changes and events on a timeline- where would they go?
Compare and order events and artefacts from home life in Victorian era, investigating how things were very different a long time ago. Build on knowledge from Year 1.
Key Vocabulary for this unit- Government, vote, monarchy, parliament, prime minister, oil lamps, mangle
Local History Significant historical events, people and places in their own locality
Do I know how the local area is different to the way it used to be a long time ago? Do I know what we use today instead of older given artefacts?	Learn about how our local beaches were used years ago and how they have changed.

Do I understand how seaside holidays were different in Victorian times?	Compare Scarborough holidays/beach now to the past (Victorian Times). Ryedale Folk museum trip linked to children's lives (at school) and in their homes.
Do I understand why our local lighthouses were put in place?
Skills Differentiate between things that were here 100 years ago and things that were not (e.g. bathing machines in the past vs now). Compare holidays from the past in Scarborough and changes and similarities.
Key Vocabulary for this unit- Government, vote, monarchy, parliament, prime minister, oil lamps, mangle

How can we learn from sacred Books?	• Explore what a story is and why we like Emerging: Talk about some of the stories that are used in religion and why people still read them (A2). Some ways in which Christians, Muslims and Jewish people treat their sacred books (B3). Expected: Recognise that sacred texts contain stories which are special to many people and should be treated with respect (B3). Re-tell stories from the Christian Bible and stories from another faith; suggest the meaning of these stories (A2). Ask and suggest answers to questions arising from stories Jesus told and from another religion (C1). Talk about issues of good and bad, right and wrong arising from the stories (C3). Exceeding: Suggest their own ideas about stories from sacred texts and give reasons for their significance (C1). Make links between the messages within sacred texts and the way people live (A2). 	 them; are there different types of story? Introduce a parable as a story with a deeper meaning. Talk about how some books are more than special – they are sacred or holy, meaning that people believe that they are from God. Introduce the Bible as a sacred text for Christians. Introduce a sacred text for Muslims – Holy Qur'an, and/or Jewish people – Tenakh. Investigate how these books are used and treated – Torah (part of Tenakh): often read from scrolls in the synagogue, beautifully written in Hebrew; Bible translated into lots of different versions to make accessible to all ages; Holy Qur'an kept in its original Arabic, as Muslims believe that is how it was revealed to Prophet Muhammad. Read, act out and illustrate some stories Jesus told about what God is like (e.g. 'The lost sheep/Lost coin' Luke 15) and how to treat each other (e.g. 'The good Samaritan' Luke 10). Explore stories from Jewish sacred text, the Tenakh, which teach about God looking after his people e.g. Jonah (Book of Jonah). Explore stories about Prophet Muhammad and the rebuilding of the Ka'aba'). Share an example of a story that occurs in more than one sacred text e.g. the story of Noah, which is sacred to Muslims, Jews and Christians.

What I need the children to learn	Possible learning experiences
Reading
Pupils should revise and consolidate the GPCs and the common exception words taught in year 1. The exception words taught will vary slightly, depending on the phonics programme being used. As soon as pupils can read words comprising the year 2 GPCs accurately and speedily, they should move on to the years 3 and 4 programme of study for word reading. When pupils are taught how to read longer words, they should be shown syllable boundaries and how to read each syllable separately before they combine them to read the word. Pupils should be taught how to read suffixes by building on the root words that they have already learnt. The whole suffix should be taught as well as the letters that make it up. Pupils who are still at the early stages of learning to read should have ample practice in reading books that are closely matched to their developing phonic knowledge and knowledge of common exception words. As soon as the dependent of construction words are been deded.
decoding of most regular words and common exception words is embedded fully, the range of books that pupils can read independently will expand rapidly. Pupils should have opportunities to exercise choice in selecting books and be taught how to do so. The focus should continue to be on pupils' comprehension as a primary element in reading. The knowledge and skills that pupils need in order to comprehend are very similar at different ages. This is why the programmes of study for comprehension in years 3 and 4 and years 5 and 6 are similar: the complexity of the writing increases the level of challenge. Pupils should be taught to recognise themes in what they read, such as the triumph of good over evil or the use of magical devices in fairy stories and folk tales. They should also learn the conventions of different types of writing (for example, the greeting in letters, a diary written in the first person or the use of presentational devices such as numbering and headings in instructions). Pupils should be taught to use the skills they have learnt earlier and continue to apply these skills to read for different reasons, including for pleasure, or to find out information and the meaning of new words.
Pupils should be encouraged to read all the words in a sentence and to do this accurately, so that their understanding of what they read is not hindered by imprecise decoding (for example, by reading 'place' instead of 'palace'). Pupils should monitor what they read, checking that the word they have decoded fits in with what else they have read and makes sense in the context of what they already know about the topic. The meaning of new words should be explained to pupils within the context of what they are reading, and they should be encouraged to use morphology (such as prefixes) to work out unknown words. Pupils should learn about cause and effect in both narrative and non-fiction (for example, what has prompted a character's behaviour in a story; why certain dates are commemorated annually). Thinking aloud' when reading to pupils may help them to understand what skilled readers do. Deliberate steps should be taken to increase pupils' vocabulary and their awareness of grammar so that they continue to understand the differences between spoken and written language.
Discussion should be demonstrated to pupils. They should be guided to participate in it and they should be helped to consider the opinions of others. They should receive feedback on their discussions. Role-play and other drama techniques can help pupils to identify with and explore characters. In these ways, they extend their understanding of what they read and have opportunities to try out the language they have listened to.

Text and Composition Reading and listening to whole books, not simply extracts, helps pupils to increase their vocabulary and grammatical knowledge, including their knowledge of the vocabulary and grammar of Standard English. These activities also help them to understand how different types of writing, including narratives, are structured. All these can be drawn on for their writing.
Pupils should understand, through being shown these, the skills and processes essential to writing: that is, thinking aloud as they collect ideas, drafting, and re-reading to check their meaning is clear. Drama and role-play can contribute to the quality of pupils' writing by providing opportunities for pupils to develop and order their ideas through playing roles and improvising scenes in various settings.
Pupils might draw on and use new vocabulary from their reading, their discussions about it (one-to-one and as a whole class) and from their wider experiences.

and new vocabulary?
Can I encapsulate what I want to say, sentence

Can I make simple additions, revisions and corrections to my own writing by evaluating my writing with the teacher and other pupils?
Can I reread to check that my writing makes sense and that the correct tense is used throughout?
Can I proofread to check for errors in spelling, grammar and punctuation (e.g. Can I check that the ends of sentences are punctuated correctly)?
Can I write for different purposes with an	1
awareness of an increased amount of fiction and non-fiction structures?

Can I use new vocabulary from my reading, my discussions about it (one- to-one and as a whole class) and from my wider experiences?
Can I read aloud what I have written with appropriate intonation to make the meaning clear?
Grammar
The terms for discussing language should be embedded for pupils in the course of discussing their writing with them. Their attention should be drawn to the technical terms they need to learn
Can I use the present tense and the past tense mostly correctly and consistently?
Can I form sentences with different forms: statement, question, exclamation, command?
Can I use some features of written Standard English? Can I using co-ordination (or/and/but)?
Can I use some subordination (when/if/ that/because)?
Can I use expanded noun phrases to describe and specify (e.g. the blue butterfly)?
Can I use the full range of punctuation taught at key stage 1 mostly correctly including:
capital letters, full stops, question marks and exclamation marks; commas to separate lists;
apostrophes to mark singular possession and contractions?
Can I recognise and use the terms noun, noun phrase, statement, question, exclamation, command, compound, suffix, adjective, adverb, verb, present tense, past tense, apostrophe and comma?
Spellings and Handwriting
In year 2, pupils move towards more word-specific knowledge of spelling, including homophones. The process of spelling should be emphasised: that is, that spelling involves segmenting spoken words into phonemes and then representing all the phonemes by graphemes in the right order. Pupils should do this both for single-syllable and multi-syllabic words. At this stage children's spelling should be phonically plausible, even if not always correct. Misspellings of words that pupils have been taught to spell should be corrected; other misspelt words can be used as an opportunity to teach pupils about alternative ways of representing those sounds.
Pupils should be encouraged to apply their knowledge of suffixes from their word reading to their spelling. They should also draw from and apply their growing knowledge of word and spelling structure, as well as their knowledge of root words.
Pupils should revise and practise correct letter formation frequently. They should be taught to write with a joined style as soon as they can form letters securely with the correct orientation.
Spellings
Can I segment spoken words into phonemes and to represent these with graphemes, spelling many of these words correctly and making phonically-plausible attempts at others?
Can I recognise new ways of spelling phonemes for which one or more spellings are already known and to learn some words with each spelling, including some common homophones (e.g. bare/bear, blue/blew, night/knight)? Can I apply further Y2 spelling rules and guidance*, which includes:
 the /dʒ/ sound spelt as 'ge' and' dge' (e.g. fudge, huge) or spelt as 'g' or 'j' elsewhere in words (e.g. magic, adjust); the /n/ sound spelt 'kn' and 'gn' (e.g. knock, gnaw);
 the /r/ sound spelt 'wr' (e.g. write, written); the /l/ or /el/ sound spelt -le (e.g. little, middle) or spelt - el (e.g. camel, tunnel) or spelt –al (e.g. metal, hospital) or spelt –il

(e.g. fossil, nostril);
the /aɪ/ sound spelt
-y (e.g. cry, fly, July);
adding –es to nouns and verbs ending in
-y where the 'y' is changed to 'i' before the -es (e.g. flies, tries, carries);
• adding -ed, -ing, -er and -est to a root word ending in -
y (e.g. skiing, replied) and exceptions to the rules;
adding the endings
-ing, -ed, -er, -est and -y to words ending in -e with a consonant before (including exceptions);
• adding –ing, –ed,
-er, -est and -y to words of one syllable ending in a single consonant letter after a single vowel letter (including exceptions);
 the /ɔ:/ sound (or) spelt 'a' before 'l' and 'll' (e.g. ball, always);
 the /ʌ/ sound spelt 'o' (e.g. other, mother, brother);
the /i:/ sound spelt
-ey: the plural forms of these words are made by the addition of -s (e.g. donkeys, monkeys);
 the /b/ sound spelt 'a' after 'w' and 'qu' (e.g. want, quantity, squash)
 the /3:/ sound spelt 'or' after 'w' (e.g. word, work, worm);
 the /ɔ:/ sound spelt 'ar' after 'w' (e.g. warm, towards);
the /ʒ/ sound spelt 's' (e.g. television, usual).
Can I spell most Y1 and Y2 common exception words correctly?
Can I add suffixes to spell most words correctly in my writing, e.g
ment,
-ness, -ful, -less, -ly?
Can I spell more words with contracted forms, e.g. can't, didn't,
hasn't, couldn't, it's, I'll?
Can I learn the possessive singular apostrophe (e.g. the girl's book)?
Can I write, from memory, simple sentences dictated by the teacher that include words using the GPCs, common exception words and punctuation taught so far?
Can I segment spoken words into phonemes and to then represent all of the phonemes using graphemes in the right order for both for single- syllable and multi-syllabic words?
Can I self-correct misspellings of words that I have been taught to spell (this may require support to recognise misspellings)?
Handwriting
Can I write capital letters and digits of the correct size, orientation and relationship to one another and to lower case letters?
Can I form lower case letters of the correct size, relative to one another?
Can I use spacing between words that reflects the size of the letters?
